1 sticky notes

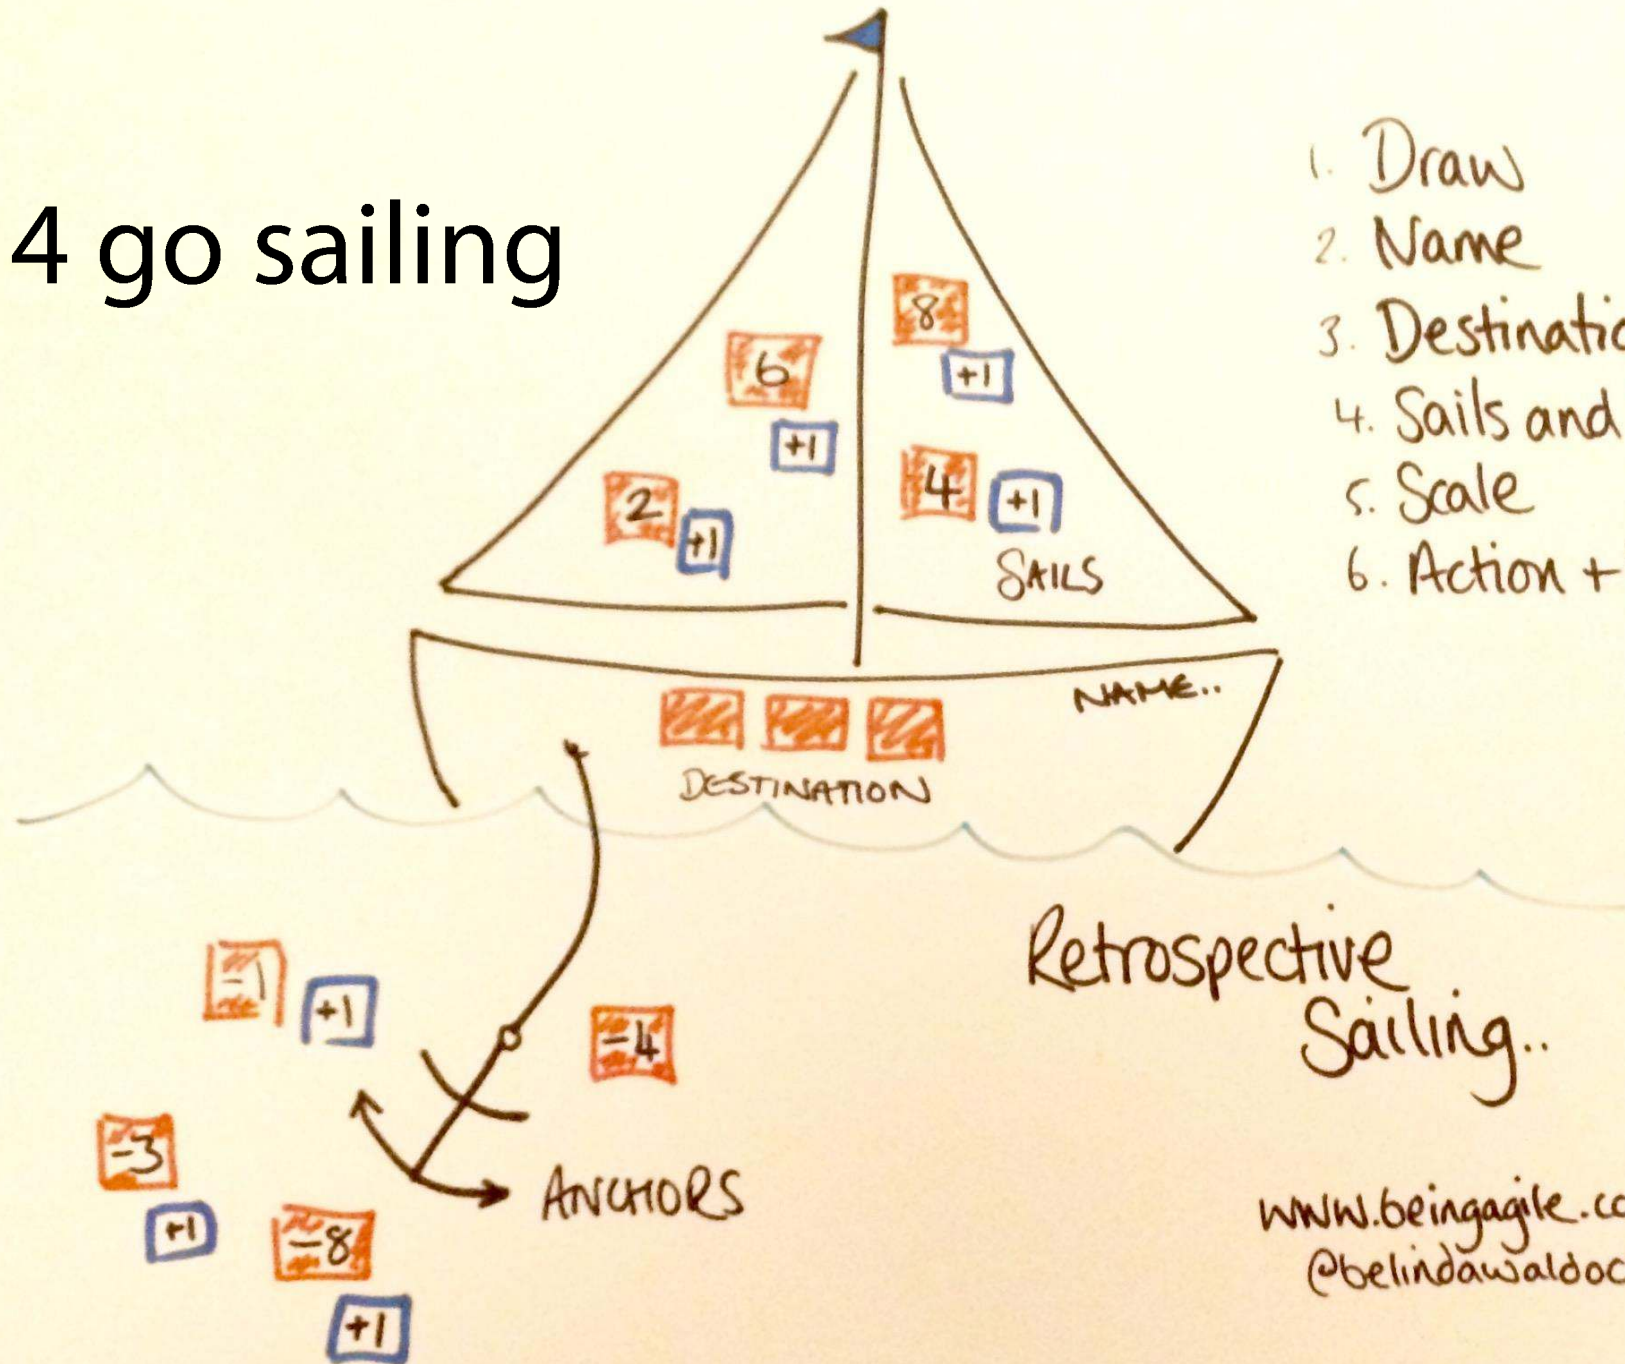

2 stand up

A close-up photograph of a chocolate cake with white frosting. The cake is cut into several rectangular slices, and the top surface is covered in a thick, smooth layer of white frosting. The sides of the cake are also coated in the same frosting. The cake is resting on a silver-colored surface, likely a tray or a piece of aluminum foil. The lighting is bright, highlighting the texture of the frosting and the moist appearance of the cake layers.
